omen Shot in Armed Robbery of Burley Motel

BURLEY, Aug. 15.—A Burley woman was listed in fair condition late Saturday night at Cassia Memorial Hospital after she was shot twice Friday night in a robbery that netted gunmen only a few dollars. Mrs. Anna Newcomb, 36, was shot once in the back and once in the face as she fell at Parish's motel, 721 Main Street east, police said. Mrs. Newcomb was watching the motel while the operators were away. The owners are Mr. and Mrs. Charles Shadlock.

The gunmen, believed driving a 1957 pink and white Ford, had not been apprehended late Saturday night. Officers immediately set up roadblocks in Twin Falls, Minidoka and Cassia counties but the roadblocks were taken down about 2:30 a.m. Saturday. Police said that Mrs. Newcomb's daughter, Ruth, 13, was with her at the time of the holdup but was uninjured. She told police that one of the gunmen walked behind Mrs. Newcomb, shot her in the back. As she fell to the floor and screamed, the second shot was fired.

While the gunman held his pistol on the girl, police said, his companion rifled the motel cash drawer, getting a "few dollars." No other details about the amount taken were available.

The companion was unsuccessful in his attempt to open a small safe.

Both men were described as about 20 years old and about five feet 10 inches in height. One man was reported as blond, wearing a navy blue jacket and blue jeans, and the other, medium brown hair and was dressed in a red sweater, police said.

A specific date was given for placement of the camp, but it was said it would be in the future.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 15 (UPI)—Chairman of the Democratic farm draftsmen predicted to the committee all will turn out against bearing the LBJ without fighting any battles over civil rights or issues.

Rep. Carl Albert of Oklahoma also said pointedly he is confident "it will be a platform with an awareness that is in the second half of the tenth century."

This was an obvious dig at the platform adopted in San Francisco where the conservative forces of Arizona Senator Goldwater, the GOP presidential nominee, were in full flight.

The Democratic platform committee will start its hearings Monday morning, a week advance of the national convention in Atlantic City. Three days of hearings will be held and two in Atlantic City.

Albert, the house Democratic leader, announced at a news conference that the initial hearings will deal with foreign policy, members of state delegations, the budget, the lend-lease witness, followed by United Nations Ambassador Adlai Stevenson and William Pastor, director of the arms control and disarmament agency.

Soviets Will Come to Aid Of Cypriots

MOSCOW, Aug. 15 (UPI)—The Soviet Union declared tonight it would come to the aid of Cyprus if the island is invaded by a foreign power.

This pledge came in a reply from the Kremlin to the request of Cyprus government for full military help in the face of Turkish air attacks.

An official government statement issued tonight said:

"In reply to the appeal of the government of Cyprus and President Makarios, our government declares that a foreign armed invasion of the territory of the republic at this place, the Soviet Union will help the Republic of Cyprus defend its freedom and independence from foreign invasion.

It is prepared to begin negotiations on this matter right now.

The offer to begin negotiations now was a clear bid for an alliance with the Republic of Cyprus. Such a deal, bringing the Soviet Union into the Mediterranean, could change the entire power setup in the region.

The offer came in a speech by Makarios, president of the People's Republic of Cyprus, to the United Nations headquarters in New York City on Aug. 14.

Two Youths Cited After Accidents

Two Twin Falls teen-agers were cited after crashes this week for following too closely, but no one was injured in the accidents.

Douglas R. Anderson, 18, 307 Alman Drive, was cited when his 1964 Plymouth struck the 1954 Chevrolet of Theodore J. Gardner, 21, 2105 Crestwood drive, at 12:15 p.m. Thursday.

Anderson had stopped for another vehicle ahead of him at Five Points north.

An estimated $125 damage was done to Anderson's auto and $25 to the Chevrolet. City patrolmen Eugene Humphrey and Gary Corcoran investigated.

Roy G. Butler, 18, 314 Third Avenue east, was cited after his 1958 Chevrolet bumped the rear of a 1955 Jeep driven by Jean Staley, 33, 305 Dubois Avenue. The accident happened at 4:40 p.m. Wednesday on Blake street, 150 feet south of Dubois Avenue.

Police said the Jeep was making a right turn off Blake street into an alley, when Butler came up from behind, applied the brakes, and slid 104 feet, six inches before hitting the Jeep.

Damage to the Chevrolet was estimated at $150 and to the Jeep at $125. Richard Coontz, 16, 418 Second Avenue east, riding with Butler and Eric Staley, 19, 305 Dubois Avenue, was a passenger in the Jeep.

WEATHER HYPOTHESIS

Swelling thunderheads have developed over northern Nevada, north-central and southeastern Idaho with thunderstorms occurring this afternoon over northern Utah. The moisture supply is being carried across Nevada by the upper air flow but there has been some increase in moisture over southern Idaho today. Afternoon temperatures have triggered swelling cloudiness over southeastern Idaho Owyhee mountains with showers occurring in sight of the lookout stations in that area.

Temperatures today have reached to the 80's and 90's in southern Idaho. Readings are mostly 3 to 5 degrees higher than Friday afternoon.

No measurable precipitation has been reported from stations in northern Idaho during the past 24 hours.

A low pressure disturbance aloft over northern California and western Nevada is expected to drift northward slowly during the next 24 hours and this should supply sufficient moisture to develop considerable cloudiness at times tonight through Sunday night with periods of thunderstorms tonight and likely again Sunday night. Greatest shower occurrence is anticipated to occur over southeastern Idaho tonight.

THIRTY-DAY FORECAST

The mean pressure pattern aloft for the next 30 days shows relatively high pressure along the West Coast with pronounced high pressure extending northward through western Canada. Low pressure will be the predominant weather feature aloft over the eastern United States.

Temperatures over the valley of southern Idaho will average from one to three degrees above normal, prevailing southwest to westerly flow of air into the Intermountain region will be an aid in keeping any extreme cold air out of our valleys with the area becoming more like September. Normal minimum temperatures will be adjusted to the calendar date by the end of the month.

The width of the former front will return with an extended vacation. In the Adirondacks, attend the reception to be held by Undersecretary of State and Mrs. W. Averell Harriman.

The reception will be held on the afternoon of Thursday, Aug. 27, on the last day of the convention that will nominate the late chief executive's successor, President Johnson, as the party's candidate for a full four-year term in the White House.

The evening, before the nomination given his acceptance speech, convention delegates will take part in a memorial service for Kennedy, who was assassinated in Dallas, Tex., nearly nine months ago.

The question of whether Mrs. Kennedy would attend the convention arose with speculation that her brother-in-law, Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, was the object of a campaign for his nomination as Johnson's vice presidential running mate.

Weather conditions for harvest of grains, fruits, sweet corn and early potatoes for the next 30 days appears very favorable with the lack of extended delays in harvesting. Haying during this period can also be done with little hindrance. The Indians will brighten the prospect of an extended growing period for delayed late season crops. Haying feed will receive limited aid from shower activity but livestock should do well into the middle of September. Last sprays for insect and weed control will have many periods of favorable weather to make progress.

2 Musicians Defect From Russia Troupe

TORONTO, Aug. 15 — Two Soviet musicians for a touring Russian variety show defected from their troupe and sought asylum today in the U.S. embassy, an American spokesman reported.

The "embassy" representative said the two Russians announced that they did not want to return to the Soviet Union when the show completes its engagements here.

The Russians were identified as Igor Veruchits, 31, a contrabass player, and Boris Midney, 26, a drummer.

Both are members of the Bolshoi variety troupe. They were officially listed as "missing" by the Soviet embassy.

Mrs. Kennedy
Will Attend
Demo Parley

WASHINGTON, Aug. 15 (UPI) —

Mrs. John F. Kennedy will attend a reception in Atlantic City, N.J., on Aug. 21, for delegates to the Democratic national convention. It was learned today.

The widow of the former first lady will return from an extended vacation in the Adirondacks to attend the reception to be held by Undersecretary of State and Mrs. W. Averell Harriman.

The reception will be held on the afternoon of Thursday, Aug. 27, on the last day of the convention that will nominate the late chief executive's successor, President Johnson, as the party's candidate for a full four-year term in the White House.

The evening, before the nomination given his acceptance speech, convention delegates will take part in a memorial service for Kennedy, who was assassinated in Dallas, Tex., nearly nine months ago.

The question of whether Mrs. Kennedy would attend the convention arose with speculation that her brother-in-law, Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, was the object of a campaign for his nomination as Johnson's vice presidential running mate.

Army men, in turn, believe the air force has not been able to provide the close support for ground forces that can be provided by army-controlled combat aircraft. Cooperation between the army and air force improved somewhat last year when the air force began stationing forward observers with U.S. Army field detachments.

But bitter arguments persist between helicopter and fighter pilots, and a final truce will depend at least partly on improving the relations between these two groups.

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

By ANDREW TALLY
WASHINGTON, Aug. 15—As a result of the White House visit of UN Secretary-General U. Thant is that some communists experts now are inclined to dismiss Nikolai Khrushchev's threat to quit the United Nations if Russia's vote is taken away for nonpayment of peace-keeping assessments. Key to this thinking, which could be wishful, is the widening split between Moscow and Peking. As certain sources see it, the Soviet Union might feel required to keep its membership as a play in its game of one-upmanship with Communist China. Moscow has lost considerable influence with other communist countries as a result of its ideological quarrel with Peking. It no longer can command any allegiance in Southeast Asia, and it is having trouble with European satellites such as Poland and Rumania. Where Moscow once owned and operated the communist parties in India and Japan, it now is faced with pro-Chinese splinter groups in both countries.

Benefit to All

Franz-Josef Strauss, former defense minister of West Germany, said in a speech that Adolf Hitler alone shouldn't be blamed for World War II.

He was guilty of starting it all right when he invaded Poland in 1939, said Herr Strauss, but that was not his intention. He simply did not foresee the consequences—that Britain and France, having backed down so often in the past, would finally go to war.

Herr Strauss deplores the acceptance by many Germans of total blame for both World Wars because it plays into the hands of those (particularly the Russians) who use the excuse of the "German menace" to keep Germany divided.

In one sense, Herr Strauss is right. Hitler was more responsible for nearly burning down the world than a pyromaniac is responsible when he burns down a building. The difference is that firebugs are not usually placed in charge of nations.

Blame for World War II (or war I) aside, and the present-day reasons of the Russians notwithstanding, there are many in the West who wish to see a little more assurance that the Germans will never again give themselves into the hands of a Hitler before they can support German reunification.

In this regard, it is encouraging to see that Chancellor Erhard formally rebuked one of his officials who issued a fiery call for the return of the Sudetenland from Czechoslovakia to Germany.

This is one instance where history cannot be allowed to repeat itself. It is to be hoped that it will be the Germans themselves who see that it does not.

If guilt about Hitler helps toward this end, it serves humanity.

Views of Others

SOON: PURER WATER
Housewives will not be aware of any change, but within a matter of months they will begin switching from ABS to LAS.

In other words, they will begin using a different kind of detergent in their sinks and washing machines, one with the same cleaning power as before but which won't cause the foaming in some surface waters that has brought so much criticism against supersurfactant detergent manufacturers.

For housewives who happen to have a degree in chemistry, it means that the familiar alkyl benzene sulfonates (ABS) with branched-chain hydrocarbons will be supplanted by the sodium salt of an alkyl aryl sulfonate in which the alkyl group in the molecule is strung out in linear fashion (LAS).

It seems that it is the "kinks" in the hydrocarbon molecules that make ordinary detergents so resistant to biological breaking down. Straightening out the kinks produces a "soft," degradable detergent that is much more palatable to bacteria, without whose help, man would soon be choked in his own wastes.

After more than a decade of research, the voluntary, industry-wide, multimillion-dollar conversion program is expected to be completed by the end of 1966.

Though detergent foaming is only one small, and essentially harmless, factor in the nation's water pollution problem, it is by far the most visible. The more serious matters of pollution remain to be solved—such as industrial wastes and simply keeping up with the ordinary by-products of our burgeoning cities.

Now that the foam is going to disappear, it is to be hoped that the rest of the pollution problem will not become a matter of out of sight, out of mind.

SPRIT UNSHAKEN

Great natural catastrophes like the Alaskan earthquake remind us how inconceivable a tempest mankind holds on this planet.

The earth we consider so firm, into which we bore our deep mines and sink the foundations for our towering buildings, is but the most outer skin of the huge globe.

We are told that the massive adjustment of the crust which shook Alaska released more energy than all the nuclear bombs ever exploded. Actually, an event that could cause tidal (seismic) waves thousands of miles away and lift the city of Houston, Tex., five inches in the air is not measurable in terms that have any real meaning to us.

In the face of such power acting over such a vast area, the fact that the death and injury toll was as low as it was is all the more amazing.

Fortunately, it is not man's nature to dwell on his own puniness compared to the cosmos. We take note of our insignificance; we mourn our dead; then we set about to rebuild our shattered cities and lives.

By DICK WEST

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10—There is nothing to being a bureaucrat, actually. Anyone can do it. Or so says Rep. Otis G. Pike, a New York Democrat and philosopher.

After spending nearly two terms in congress, Pike has come to the conclusion that "the decision-making process is no different in Washington than it is in Podunk."

It just seems different because the bureaucrat uses a different language, he recently explained to a constituent.

"Take a simple little old non-controversial issue like deciding whom to marry," Pike said. "If such a decision were made on the federal level, the results would be something like this:

A man would ask himself, "Is she the one for me?"

In the government, on the other hand, the question would be, "Is it a part of the administration's program?"

A woman considering matrimony would say to herself, "Tom is nice, but then so are Dick and Harry."

"The government," she would say, "needs a lot more research and development on this item before we can go into procurement."

As the courtship grows warmer, the man says, "She is so lovely and glamorous that I don't care whether she can cook."

In the same situation, the government would say, "This product is so superior that we'd like to negotiate a contract rather than put it out to competitive bidding."

It's the same with the prospective bridegroom, beginning to have some ideas and thoughts. He asks himself, "Can I afford her?"

The government equivalent would be, "Will the bureau of the budget approve?"

The girl also begins to have doubts. She asks herself, "What will my family say?" Translated into government jargon, that question would be, "What effect will this have in November?"

"Blasted show that one out of every five marriages end in divorce," Pike said. "Washington, too, thinks the right decisions about 80 per cent of the time."

I would like to commend Pike and also to point out that the similarity between Podunk and Washington likewise includes congress.

If decisions on getting married were made by congress, I think it might go something like this:

Girl—"I wonder how many wedding presents we will get?"

Congress—"When does the public works bill come up for a vote?"

Man—"Let's just have a small wedding."

Congress—"Let's do this in executive session."

Girl—"I hope we can go abroad on honeymoon."

Congress—"As soon as we are joined, I have a nice fat junket lined up."

Aid to All GOP Hopefuls Is Promised

WASHINGTON, Aug. 15 (UPI)—Rep. William E. Miller, presidential hopeful, today he and Sen. Barry Goldwater "will give all the help we can" to every GOP candidate who seeks a hand from the national ticket.

And he said Republican senators, representatives and governors who want to serve effectively can do it best by backing the national ticket.

The New York congressman's forum was a meeting of Republican state chairmen and finance chiefs from the 50 states.

"I am not here today to preach harmony between any so-called factions of the Republican party because I know it isn't necessary," Miller said in his prepared pep talk.

Then both affirming Republican solidarity and taking a poll at President Johnson, Miller said "Republicans all over the country who tried to defeat Gentleman Jim in November" already have

The taunting reference to the President was a play on Mrs. Johnson's familiar nickname—Lady Bird—and their older daughter's name—Lynda Bird.

And the claim of Republican solidarity follows efforts by Goldwater and Miller to swing all Republicans who opposed the senator's nomination behind his drive for the White House.

Humphrey Is Speaker at Utah Parley

SALT LAKE CITY, Aug. 15 (UPI)—Sen. Hubert Humphrey, D. Minn., said last night he can't predict who President Johnson will choose as his running mate in November.

"The only prediction I can make," said Humphrey, "is that whenever the President selects, he will be the next vice president of the United States."

Humphrey, widely regarded as a top prospect for the second spot on the Democratic ticket, spoke at a dinner at the Fort Douglas Country club in honor of Sen. Frank E. Moss, D. Utah, who is the Democratic selection to a second term in November.

Approximately 250 persons paid $100 apiece to hear the Minnesota senator. Humphrey hosted a "pancake with Humphrey" Democratic rally at the Utah state fairgrounds this morning.

Asked if President Johnson had ever told Humphrey he would like him as a running mate, the senator replied:

"The President has always given me encouragement, but we've never talked about that."

Humphrey said the Democratic party should carry most of the south in November.

"We'll lose one or two southern states at the most," he said. "The people of the south know the Democratic party has been good to them."

In the county Republican meeting, Mrs. Elaine Halley survived an ousted attempt, receiving 17 votes for state committeewoman to 10 for Mrs. Laurene Carlson. Mrs. Halley will oppose the candidates in both GOP presidential nominating. Harry Goldwater and congressional nominee George Hansen. Mrs. Halley was reelected after Hansen, a Pocatello city commissioner, told her he had nothing to do with an attempt to unseat her.

Bonny, also Boise, was reelected president. Greenleaf has been manager of the company's overseas district operations, and Olmstead has been president of the H. K. Ferguson company, Cleveland, an M-K subsidiary.

LEWISTON, Aug. 15 (UPI)—Potlatch Forests, Inc., plans to spend $20 million dollars for the construction of a plywood plant and a sawmill about three miles north of Pierce, Idaho. Directors of the firm said yesterday construction of the tree facilities will begin about Sept. 1, with completion scheduled for the summer of 1965.

BOISE, Aug. 15 (UPI)—A woman pilot who flew around the world in a twin-engine plane will be in Boise Aug. 20-29 for a sectional meeting of women aviators. The pilot, Mrs. Joan McMahan, Long Beach, Calif., will be the principal speaker for the final day of the gathering. Members of the International Lady Pilots are expected to attend from eight northwest states, including Alaska.

BOISE, Aug. 15 (UPI)—State officials are considering an apparent low bid for work on the roof of the Idaho state museum in Boise. The bid was received Friday by the department of public works.

BOISE, Aug. 15—Officers were named Friday night by the central committees for the Republican and Democratic parties in Ada county. Mrs. Mary Jane McClary received the Republican chairmanship. Her husband, James D. McClary, spearheaded the drive in Idaho for the GOP presidential nomination of Barry Goldwater. The Democrats reelected Emmett Bennett, without any apparent factionalism. The party has been affected by divisions in the county for two years.

POCATELLO, Aug. 15 (UPI)—Grant Kilbourne, vice president of the J. H. Simplot company and general manager of its chemical fertilizer complex west of Pocatello, said today a four million ton expansion program at the plant has been reinitiated. The expansion, Kilbourne said, will double the capacity of Simplot's phosphoric acid production facilities, making the plant here equal to the largest and most modern phosphate fertilizer plants in the world. "This expansion was previously cancelled," Kilbourne said, "probably because of an effort by the Bonneville power administration to insure that the Idaho phosphate fields with cheap, subsidized power that would give our electric process competitors such an unfair advantage over our 'wet acid' process that we could be driven out of business."

POCATELLO, Aug. 15 (UPI)—Charles L. (Chick) Bilyeu won another two years as chairman of the Bannock county Democratic central committee yesterday, turning back the challenge of Jay R. Paul. Two other officials were reelected county chairman by a 21-10 count. Lowe and after the meeting he counted on at least five more votes from the 10-member committee who didn't attend. It was the second time in the 10 years Bilyeu had defeated Lowe in an election. In the Aug. 4 primary, Bilyeu was chosen the Democrat to oppose Republican State Sen. Perry Swisher in November, defeating Lowe and Kelly Pearce.

BOISE, Aug. 15 (UPI)—The United States department of agriculture crop reporting service has forecast the fall potato harvest in Idaho at 47,000,000 bushels. The 1963 production was 53,460,000 cwt. and the 1958-62 average is 47,023,000.

De Gaulle Is Cheered by Vacationers

TOULON, France, Aug. 15 (UPI)—President Charles de Gaulle, cheered by crowds of vacationers, toured former Riviera invasion beaches today in a largely French commemoration of the liberation of southern France 20 years ago.

De Gaulle boycotted Allied Day anniversary ceremonies in Normandy two months ago.

Summer tourists now jamming France's Mediterranean playground resorts turned out in thousands in shorts, swimsuits and even bikinis to cheer the 75-year-old president during an 80-mile tour of remembrance.

It was on this picture book coast that the 20th day ago today the invasion force of United States and Free French troops stormed ashore to capture and liberate Southern France.

De Gaulle appeared in top form. Wearing a light khaki general's summer uniform, he rode in an open car waving to the crowds held back by police and iron barriers.

With him were Premier Georges Pompidou and eight other cabinet ministers and U.S. Ambassador to France, Mrs. E. R. Rothen, British Ambassador Sir Pierston Dixon, Allied Supreme Commander Gen. Lyman L. Lemnitz and many of the generals and admirals who took part in the landings 20 years ago.

Soviets Are Considering Wheat Deal

LONDON, Aug. 15 (UPI)—Authoritative sources said today the Soviet Union plans to buy considerable quantities of wheat from the West again this year to build up emergency stocks.

It was estimated the new purchases may amount to "several million tons." Russia last year bought about 12 million tons of wheat from the United States and Canada at considerable expense to its gold reserves.

The Russians last year exported a 20 per cent drop in their wheat harvest. The harvested products this year are improved, but the reported new purchases are being planned as an emergency safeguard against a seaboard.

It was also decided to keep stocks of about half of the Soviet Union's annual requirements to guard against a new crisis.

Soviet plans have called for a total grain harvest of between 155 and 170 million tons for this year. Final results, however, were expected to be well below this level.

Kimberly Man Doesn't See Automation as 'Boogeyman'

Editor, Times-News:
The article "Automation Speeds" in the Times-News of a few days ago seems to suggest that automation "will put great numbers out of work before long and present an unemployment problem of magnitude."

How could we get, if man cannot and do the work we formerly labored at, we are just that much ahead. Those relieved of their work by automation can do other things needed, and since we have the work we would have worked at done for us by automation, we are ahead by that much and can produce extra things we had no time for before.

As we have it now, we are supporting an army of "I won't work" loafers by government handout, and if we put more replaced by automation in that army and take care of them, then their existence will be had.

We should make every able-bodied man or woman get out and earn his living or starve. If everyone had to earn a living, all of us could either produce more or all of us have more leisure time. Let's use horse sense, at least.

Change Needed? Twin Falls Man Wants to Know

Editor, Times-News:

We are thankful for the privilege to vote in the primary as well as the election in November. Mr. Goldwater has asked to be our next president and Mr. Johnson is it through events.

Mr. Johnson is a sort of protege of FDR and "the New Deal."

The question in the general election—Do we need a change?

School Leaders to Push for New Tax Policy

By JOHN WHITE
Associated Press Writer

Idaho schools administrators and trustees are determined more than ever to push for a re-examination of the state's education and taxing policies.

"This year is one major development that emerged from their annual conference just concluded at Sun Valley.

Their resolve was bolstered by a report submitted by the University of Idaho chapter of Phi Delta Kappa, professional fraternity for men in education which compete with the modern economics about as well as the horse competes with the Thunderbird."

The report emphasizes that a combination of property, income and sales taxes is necessary to produce sufficient income to support improved educational programs.

"Any one of these three taxes taken singly," the report asserts, "would not constitute a good tax base for the state but a combination of the three would give balance and stability to the program."

"On the basis of these three taxes," the report continues, "adequate government services could be provided for an expanding future population and economy without over-burdening any one tax."

"Firm state control and supervision of property assessment practices and apportioning filed and trained persons as assessors rather than electing them would help alleviate this problem," the report said.

More efficient expenditure of available school funds, reorganization of small school districts and upgrading of teacher certification standards were also recommended in the report.

It also called for better use of the state's school funds in equalization and suggested that aid to wealthy districts be reduced.

Improving certification standards and teacher status, the report states, will allow Idaho to buy more value for its school dollars.

"Employing poorly qualified teachers is false economy," the report asserts.

The report pointed out that 1,440 teachers in Idaho cannot meet the minimum requirement of four years of college training in a professional program.

Rupert Businessmen Urged To Take Part in Government

RUPERT, Aug. 15—Rupert businessmen were urged to take more interest in county government and acquaint themselves with the happenings in the courthouse during the regular meeting of the Rupert Chamber of Commerce Thursday noon at the Hirling cafe.

August Buhke, Minidoka county auditor and recorder, said the county is experiencing growing pains, and the present budget is insufficient to handle some of the present needs.

He explained that statistics for Minidoka county is third in growth in the state of Idaho over the last 10-year period, and is working to overcome the problems growth has presented.

The county auditor reported some criticism had been pointed toward the county commissioners in their duties, but lack of funds have placed hardship on working out some of the problems.

Any work on the zoning law which was passed last year will have to wait until 1965 when funds will be available. At present, Buhke reported, $200 is in the zoning budget and very little could be accomplished with this sum. He also pointed out the need for work on the dump grounds which the shortage of money will not permit.

The auditor reported that electing a hill crest and curve.

Jurors were John Bolliger, Fred Allen, Thomas Northcott, David Ayura, Mrs. A. J. Kline and Mrs. Willford Bislam, all of Hailey.

South Central Square Dance Group Hosts "First" Idaho State Festival

By NORMA HERZINGER

"A good time was had by all!" This was the comment expressed by the many, many people attending the "first" Idaho State Square Dance festival.

The South Central Square Dance association hosted this first event, which was held at the Twin Falls high school gymnasium. Approximately 400 dancers participated in this festival, traveling to Twin Falls from throughout Idaho, as well as representatives from Washington, Oregon, California, Nevada, New Mexico and Kansas.

Square dancing has aptly been called "friendly, yet to music" as it is no wonder "a good time was had by all." Since Idaho has just formed a federation and this being the first festival of its kind in Idaho, members of the South Central Square Dance association felt they were very well rewarded by all the favorable comments for the work involved in hosting such an event.

The program got under way with a four-caller program, featuring Bill Crutcher, Orofino; Myron Bills, Glenn Ferry; Don Rising, Boise, and Bill Brandon, Idaho Falls. A potluck supper was held following this at the high school cafeteria.

As the dancers arrived, the girls of the Pots and Pans 4-H club met them to carry the potluck dishes to the cafeteria, where the food was arranged by the Wheeling Stun club, Twin Falls.

The dinner was served by members of the Melody Squares, Gooding. The Buckaroos Squares, Burley, arranged the tables and decorations. Roots and Bustles club, Twin Falls, was in charge of making coffee and purchasing. Ross Crispino, Nampa, was general festival chairman.

Early the next morning, the dancers gathered at the Depot Grill Caboose room for breakfast, convening later at the high school, where workshops began. Each workshop consisted of one half hour of squares by Brandon, followed by one half hour of round dance instruction by Mr. and Mrs. Crispino.

For those interested in other aspects of square dancing, there were panels discussions. Panels included federation expectations, The Wood, Boise; Ernie Davis, Twin Falls, and Bill Crutcher; sound and sound equipment, Roland Offroy, Boise, and Don Rising, Boise; club and federation publicity, Ralph Kramer, Boise; Leo Land, Mountain Home; square and round pedagogy, Crispino and Bill Coffield, Twin Falls; club operations, Doug Hyslop, Nampa; Dave Browning, Idaho Falls, and Bills.

A smorgasbord was served in the cafeteria by Leo Soran, followed by a style show. Mrs. Crispino narrated the style show, with background music arranged by her husband. The models were square dance couples from throughout Idaho. There were couples modeling for Peterboro Western Apparel and Ranch and Town Western Wear, Twin Falls, as well as many original styles of square dance clothing, including by the models.

Following the style show was a waltz exhibition "Cape Cad Waltz," by the Twinkle Toe club, Twin Falls, led by Mr. and Mrs. Old Hurr.

Offroy called the grand march led by the federation officers and area representatives.

The dance was called by 22 federation callers. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bills, Enecho, Calif., accepted the out-of-state trophy for California for having the most couples present. For the area in the Idaho federation having the most couples present the trophy went to area No. 3, with 83 couples present. These couples were on their way home from attending the national square dance convention at Long Beach, Calif.

This national convention was attended by more than 20,000 square dancers.

One of the special features of the Twin Falls festival was an information booth. This booth was not set up for an information booth in the usual sense, but gave the spectators information about square dancing as an interesting hobby and of the beginner classes stated. The booth was under the direction of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Will. They are very well known in square dance circles as experienced square dancers. Will has been calling in Magic Valley for a number of years.

After watching dancers on the floor as they executed the various patterns the question arises as to how they know what to do. This is the purpose of square dance classes. This form of dancing is based upon certain basic figures that are practiced until they more or less come naturally. It is the teacher's job to make the learning seem simple by building one step upon the next. During the period of learning, the new dancer dances only in his own group.

This has been found to be best for the new and the old dancer. Then as the beginner approaches the finish of his course, usually the caller, or the sponsoring club will give a series of "dances" in which new and old dancers dance together. The caller gears the dances to the ability of the newer dancers.

As the groups merge, the older ones help the new ones to gain confidence and go on to higher levels of dancing.

Square dancing is a continual learning process. There is always something new to be learned and even the best dancers find it challenging. Even the best dancers find that they can make mistakes and be in the wrong place, or misunderstand a call. Then everyone laughs and goes on as the aim of square dancing is not perfection, but to have fun, to enjoy companionship and to make friends.

It is said that there are four levels of dancing—the beginner who is struggling to learn the basics; the second level where dancers know most of the basics and are having a real good time; and the third level who love to learn new dances and patterns and can execute all the complex figures that go with square dancing.

The fourth level dancer is the one of most dancers—that is the dancer who can dance with any group, from beginner to high level and have a good time doing it.

Learning to square dance is like learning any other art—you have to learn certain basic movements and patterns. After these are learned, most of the dances are based upon a combination of the basic patterns. Consequently, you do not have to memorize an entire dance. You know the patterns and then do as the caller tells you.

In Magic Valley there is quite a group of active square dancers and then there are others who just like to listen to the music and watch the dancers. Both types are welcomed as supporters of square dancing.

While talking to Mrs. Fred Shobe about the festival and square dancing in general, she said, "During summer months, patio dance with a polka supper afterwards gives a person the feeling of relaxation. Ask any square dancer and he will tell you that those good times are hard to beat. When you hear the music of the fiddle, follow it and watch. You will find yourself tapping your toe and joining in the fun."

BURLEY, Aug. 15 — Carla Moultrie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Orville Moultrie, and Jack Taylor, son of Mr. and Mrs. Rex Taylor, all Burley, were united in marriage July 17 at the Burley LDS first ward chapel.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor-length organza sheath gown, broderied in a lily of the valley pattern. The tiered bodice was accented with lily point sleeves and a rounded neckline, with a built back diaphanous train of organza.

Stock Market Stages Good Recovery

NEW YORK, Aug. 15 (AP)—The market staged a good recovery from last week's sell-off, but trading remained more like a ten-finger tap than a full-fledged rally.

Through gains were in the vicinity throughout most of the day and the popular averages had substantial gains in two areas, an undertone of caution prevailed. Volume lagged in past week's pace.

The prices drifted listlessly in the trading Monday as traders sat back to study the international situation, particularly the tempest which boiled up in Europe over the weekend, and little was accomplished. Volume lagged and until the Dow-Jones industrial average had been booked up 100, its best gain in more than a month.

Confidence was still strong on Tuesday and prices again advanced. However, a trifle of week-end evening up, indicated the size of the advance to 444 on the DJI, evenning up and a degree of profit-taking held the gains in check in the final session.

Traders expect caution to continue for a while longer, but feel that, once cautiousness and the favorable technical and fundamental factors are no longer ignored, the market should resume a strong trend. But, for the present, the eminent recommendation from the advisory services is caution. Dow-Jones industrial average advanced .60 to 103,001 and rallied up 0.67 to 213,69. Standard and Poor's stock index advanced 0.49 to 20.28.

Volume lagged at 10,319,000, less than last week and 23,745,000 last in the same week last year. Of the 1,501 issues traded, 119 to new 1004 and advanced, 119 to new 1004 and declined, 41 to new 1004.

Wheat Makes Clear Gains In Trading

CHICAGO, Aug. 15 (AP)—Wheat made clear gains of as much as 10 cents-a-bushel as sales increased in firm price levels on the Chicago Board of Trade last week in a mixed and unsettled grain market.

Compared with last Friday, wheat was unchanged to up 1 1/2 cents, while corn was 1 1/2 cents to 4 1/2 cents, and oats were up 1 to down 1 1/2 cents a bushel.

Wheat prices rallied after a dismal start Tuesday during light trading, but still closed up 1 1/2 cents. The expanded market for 1,747,000 bushels of yellow hard wheat to the United Arab Republic and a report of interest by Pakistan settled the wheat market Wednesday to a close up 1 to 1 1/2 higher.

Surplus offerings were drawn Thursday and wheat closed down 1/2 to up 4. The golden grain ended the week up 1/2 to up 1 as considerable business was anticipated by the beginning of next week.

Corn started the week quiet and began to move as cooler weather slowed demand. The market strengthened Tuesday on good buying by commission houses.

Corn finished Wednesday in large volume trading. There were reports of crop deterioration from several areas due to lack of moisture, but corn weakened on Thursday following a sharp break by soybeans, and continued weak Friday on local and mixed selling of deferred deliveries. Uncertain weather also disturbed the market.

Soybeans started the week heavy down as much as 10 cents a bushel as cool weather and a weaker market for oil had depressing effects. There was activity by several large commission houses Tuesday and soybeans strengthened.

Soybeans continued to climb as much as four cents Wednesday, but prices dropped as much as three cents Thursday after brokers with commercial connections sold heavy November soybeans and led a setback. Dry weather tempered by cool temperatures persisted.

T.F. Man Hurt In One-Car Crash

Harry Gibson, 21, 400 Plymouth street received only slight bruises but totaled out his 1963 Plymouth Thursday when he missed a curve on Locust street south.

Police said Gibson, travelling south, failed to negotiate a turn in front of 553 Locust street south and his car smashed into a telephone pole and damaged a mail box and a fence.

The accident happened at 7:08 a.m., and police said the driver possibly fell asleep for an instant. Gibson, travelling alone, was treated at Mayle Valley Memorial hospital and released.

The mail box belongs to Kenneth Thomas, 553 Locust street, the pole to Idaho Power and the fence to Wagner Transportation, route 1, Twin Falls. City Patrolman Daryl Cameron and State Patrolman Frank Mogenen investigated.

armed Polaris ship will be ready for station in the Western Pacific.

This event, long planned, takes on new importance because of the political debate over the Gulf of Tonkin operation, the nature of orders issued and the general topic of nuclear weapons control.

The submarine Daniel Boone, built on the West coast at Mare Island naval shipyard, is due to return to the Pacific next month from fitting tests and training in the Atlantic. The new Polaris fleet support facility at Bangor, Wash., will then be ready.

Missiles with warheads will be slipped into the sub's tubes and the submarine will be ready for business. Although the Boone made her initial shakedown cruise in the Pacific, she carried no combat weapons, and the rockets she launched off Cape Kennedy, Fla., were test and training devices... without warheads.

The second of the expected seven-ship Polaris squadron for the Pacific will go onto station late this fall, by which time a based plane.

In the strategic phase of the command and control system, the Polaris forces under this procedure:

At the top, Washington is linked via radio at all times with the submarine on patrol. This communications link is through a "redundant" alternate network of radio circuits, so that if one fails, another workable system is ready to take over.

Polaris submarines can receive radio signals, even submerged, as they usually are—through use of a very low frequency that penetrates salt water.

The chain of command for orders to fire—or not to fire—begins with the President, then goes through the secretary of defense, the joint chiefs of staff,

Sports FROM ALL ANGLES

By LARRY HOVEY

Effulgent, indomitable and capable sum up qualifications smiling Juan Joe taken to second with him each game for the Magic Valley Cowboys. In fact, if you'll pardon the pun, Juan Joe is a happy Juan.

Nothing gets the second racker from Santa Domingo, Dominican Republic, down and he snaps back quicker than anyone on the team.

While Joe is not really a finely player—alas the fancy antics of Rafael Garcia around first base—he is probably the most recruited player the club boasts, and easily the steadiest. And manager Tex Carr is aware of all this.

"I'd like to give Juan a day or two off but he does too many things for us to keep him on the bench very long," Carr says.

By too many things, Carr means like leading the league in hits, runs scored, stolen bases and a host of other things.

— Juan has other things he's good at, however. For instance, he's one of the few men ever to miss reporting time for a night game because he overslept. Completely worn down, the second baseman actually slept into the 6 p.m. reporting time.

The son of a Chinese restaurant owner, Joe, (pronounced No-ah) got his start in leagues around Santa Domingo and has played on the same team with such major league stars as Juan Marichal and Felipe Alou but hastens to add "I didn't play. They are too good."

With such a background it becomes easy to understand why Juan gets the crowds at Jaycees park small. "In Santa Domingo they have crowds of 15 and 17 thousand," he reports.

Joe finds everything quite acceptable, though he may be a little quiet, trust his English as well as he could. He can get along in the language but whenever something specific is asked, he calls on Rafael Garcia or Ramon Aldecoa for an interpretation to make sure he understands completely.

But one thing's for sure. On the field Joe understands all he needs to know and like manager Carr says "he does too many things for us to keep him on the bench very long."

The verdict has been returned. Lincoln field will again be the site of all Twin Falls high school's football games. Some two years ago the "spirit of Lincoln field" was lifted into the night via helicopter. But the spirit has been hard to kill.

The culprit is cost to build the 100-yards of bleachers on the south side of the new field—the bids something like $20,000 more than expected.

Taking it somewhat philosophically, coach Paul Olsyn had only one comment. "It kills me to think of those good lights out there going to waste again."

But the "spirit of Lincoln field" is forewarned. The cry of the school board is "We'll be back next year." Put your money on the board. He'll win in the long run.

Rob Williams, the 6-foot, 5-inch Jerome basketball center, has accepted a free ride to the University of Utah. Courtney Hohnhorst, carrying on a family tradition started by brother Rod four years ago, will join the Idaho State Bengal fresh football team this year. In preparation Hohnhorst has peeled off about 20 pounds and now checks in at 275.

Idaho fans wondering about the condition of sophomore fullback Ray McDonald and his cut Achilles tendon should be relieved in this report from Vandal coach Dee Andrus. "Ray will miss the first five or six practices this fall. By that time I hope he won't be in pads but he'll be working out in a sweat suit."

ISU coach Dale Caccia, who logically would have liked to have landed McDonald for his club, has some "salve" for his wounds. The salve also goes by the name of Otha Roberts, a 200-pound fullback from Idaho. Caccia believes Roberts is the best fullback in Idaho State history—and ISU has had a few including Boyd Hall a couple of years back.

Among the rumors department, Jerome, which is hardly the size town for such figures, might have six football transfers to augment a pretty fair nucleus of returning lettermen. Twin Falls has four and the other precincts haven't been heard from as yet.

Twin Falls Tennis Team Takes 20-Point Lead in City Meet

The Twin Falls city tennis team shot to a 20-point lead Saturday in a Twin Falls city sponsored single elimination tennis tournament without losing a finals match to any of the 78 entrants from the three competing cities. During the biggest match of the day, Brad Humphreys defeated Capt. Sam Lohae, the only entrant from Mountain Home air force base, 6-3, 6-3 in the men's finals. It was the first defeat for Captain Lohae during the day. Linda Shetongoski gave the Twin Falls team two points and lent a helping hand in another two others with Julie Astorquia in the women's doubles. Miss Astorquia also took a win in the junior women's singles.

Humphreys and his younger brother Steve teamed up to win the men's doubles and Jim Watson and Jim Astorquia combined for a win in the 14-under group. Watson also took a win in the 14-and-under mixed doubles with Shirley Mulder.

The team standings run: Twin Falls, 62; Kimberly, 42; Burley, 21; and Jerome, 0.

The meet resumes Sunday with all remaining matches going into the finals except the junior doubles which will play startout with a semi-final game.

The final Astorquia will meet Donan, Burley, in the boys 14-under division singles and in the girls 14-under singles. Mulder will meet Bean of Kimberly.

In the junior men's singles Osborne of Burley, will play against Martin of Burley. In the girls 14-under doubles, Clontz and Torrence of Kimberly, will play Wright and Carter from Twin Falls.

The junior men and women's mixed doubles will also enter their final matches Sunday.

The team trophies will be awarded after the tournament. There will be no individual trophies awarded.

Rookie Holds Athletics for Tiger Victory

KANSAS CITY, Aug. 16 (UPI)—Rookie right-hander Dennis McLain, backed by a run first inning uprising, checked Kansas City on three hits tonight in the Detroit Tigers' 5-1 victory over the Athletics.

McLain gave up a lead-off homer to Rocky Colavito in the second inning and then blanked the A's on two singles en route to his third victory in six decisions.

Floyd Bowlin followed with two home runs and came around on a ground out and error.

Heyburn Recreation Season Ends

HEYBURN, Aug. 15—"Every team participating in the little league this year is a champion," announced Lund Christensen, village recreation director. The awards were made during the party Thursday evening at the lawn park to climax the summer recreation program.

Christensen explained that the biggest trophy which could be received by the boys was the opportunity of learning to play together and cultivating good sportsmanship. He said if each boy has learned this through the league program, then he is a "champion."

Approximately 136 boys participated in the summer league, which included 12 teams in three leagues.

Antelope and ice cream were served during the party and a film taken by Mrs. Glenn Hamilton of games during the season was shown. Christensen was master of ceremonies and each coach introduced his players and presented each with a group picture. Comments were made by Ernest Straubhaar, Virgil Mattson and Christensen. Special recognition was given to Mrs. Bud Scovil and Mrs. Lavelle Greenhalgh who initiated the lawn park. Mrs. Greenhalgh was board member, over recreation, when the little league program was started four years ago.

Christensen, the first village recreation director, was recommended for his accomplishment.

Members of the committee assigned with the program are Ernest Straubhaar, Alton Tremy and Louis Himpson.

Byron Hacking, Geno Hamilton and Eldred Bair were unimited.

NEATLY PACKED in hand-constructed frame—called pallet—Oakley flagstone is being shipped to market by truck. Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Judd, Oakley, quarry owners, stand beside the pallet. Each of these packed pallets tips the scales in the neighborhood of 3,500 pounds. The rock is used in construction of fireplaces, outside walls and patio areas. Records show that season shipments total in the area of 800 tons. (Times-News photo)

Oakley Quarry Flagstone Lends Decorative Touch

By O. A. (GLIS) KELKNER
Times-News Feature Editor

OAKLEY, Aug. 16—Oakley flagstone, taken from a quarry sitting high atop a mountain 30 miles south of here, is going to town.

Bearing the name Diamondfield—borrowed from one much famous by Diamondfield Jack, a character of the early days of the valley—the quarry produces thin slabs of rock which sparkle because of mineral embedded in it and which is colored in various shades because of the content of iron oxide and other minerals.

Because of its remoteness from civilization and because it is in an area deeply covered with snow in wintertime, the quarry is operated only in season. Even with the long winter, which forces a shutdown, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Judd, Oakley, owners of the company, ship about 800 tons to market each year.

Marketing area for the rock is practically unlimited, although concentration is in the Western states. Some goes to Alaska, and Hawaii—long noted for colorful rock—got at least one shipment.

From a collection point on a level spot three miles below the quarry, the rock is prepared for shipment on large semi-trucks.

It comes down from the quarry on smaller trucks, stacked flat. At the downhill point it is packed upright in shipping boxes—called pallets—and is wired so it will not shift and break during shipment. Each of the large pallets will hold around 3,500 pounds of rock, according to Mr. and Mrs. Judd.

Landing onto the large trucks is accomplished by means of a power wagon equipped with a special hoist capable of handling the heavy pallets. The semi-trucks are able to transport 15 pallets per load and run from the loading station to the distributor in any state.

At the quarry a crew of six, in addition to a camp cook, is kept busy in section digging out the slate of rock. Most of the work is by hand, in order that rock damage will be held at a minimum, but heavy equipment is used to scrape away the soil and rotten rock which covers the formation.

Closing Dates Near For Upland Seasons

BOISE, Aug. 15—Closing dates for upland game birds, including forest grouse (blue, ruffed and Franklin), sage and sharp-tailed grouse, Hungarian and Quail, and sage, four species of quail (bobwhite, valley, gambel and mountain), and, of course, the ring-necked pheasant will be set by the Idaho fish and game commission at a special meeting in Coeur d'Alene Aug. 24-25.

The reason for the late date and special meeting (regular quarterly meetings are called by the commission during January, April, July and October) is to review the hatch and brood survival data on all upland game bird species. Hunting seasons, bag limits and other regulations are based mainly on the current production outlook.

Other factors entering the deliberations on pheasants are hunter questionnaire data; winter sex ratio counts; breeding population index (crowing counts combined with winter sex ratio); and hunter checking station records.

The breeding population trend for pheasants and sage grouse for the current year already is known and has been reported in the news columns. On pheasants, for example, hen numbers were above average in eastern Idaho this spring, considerably above average in southeastern Idaho and down somewhat in southwestern Idaho.

In HEYBURN probably were surprised this week to see Minidoka County Clerk Asst. Bethke and his wife delivering papers while their son, Paul, 13, sits in the car instructing his parents which homes get the newspaper.

Young Bethke's parents are helping him around his route while he recuperates from a leg injury.

He was walking on a pipe across a canal last Saturday morning, and when he jumped from the pipe to the canal bank his right leg caught on an iron stake. Thirteen stitches were taken to close the severe laceration between his ankle and right knee. He was first taken to Minidoka Memorial Hospital, RUPERT, and then transferred to a local physician's office for treatment.

Mr. and Mrs. Bethke drive their son around his route in the family car.

Many Rupert residents were surprised recently to see a familiar face on television during Mike Wallace's eight p.m. program.

Wallace was showing activities at the national Boy Scout Jamboree at Valley Forge and singled out Joe D. Ballantyne, 16, of Filer, Minidoka County, who was eating nonchalantly and seemed unaware he was being watched in his home town.

According to the neighbors, the Ballantynes had left for a vacation and may not have seen their son on television.

and were assured it would not cost over $10 to $15. However, when the men brought in their product and told the couple they charged five dollars a pound for it and would not let them see how much it weighed, the lady became suspicious. The men then were applying the "compound" when they said it weighed 13 pounds.

The woman told them it looked more like three pounds and asked the experts of looking for her dog went outside and took down the car license number. Returning to the house she told the men she wouldn't pay the $75 they demanded, unless she got a guarantee from their company and then.

Considering the aggressive manner of the men, the husband told his wife she had better give them the money. Considering her husband's heart condition and the appearance of the men the woman gave them $10 in cash and a check.

The man didn't want the check, but finally said they'd take it if they could get it cashed in Richfield. Leaving the residence, the men went to a local grocery, just at six p.m. closing time. The store owner,

Some Times-News subscribers

Two RICHFIELD boys had a thrilling time "playing detective" and made such a good job of it the couple "being protected" never suspected they were under surveillance for a whole day.

The Richfield couple had been threatened to have a certain sum of money in Boise by 10 a.m. "or else" on this particular day. They did not plan to give away their money, but were just a little nervous about the situation.

While watching for the black 1963 Cadillac to appear, the detective, David Brush, 11, and Alan Farnum, 10, probably appeared to be two mysterious kids to the neighbors, Mrs. Lester Johansen and Mrs. Jerry Davis. They tried to borrow horses to ride from Mrs. Johansen and picked apricots at the Davis residence.

They hadn't been told why they were to inform David's dad, Village Marshall Theo B. Brush, if they saw the black car, but they knew the men wanted money.

Police notes on the case revealed the Richfield couple had attracted two supposed salesmen into their home thinking at first they were stove cleaners. Learning the men were supposedly selling oil stove liners, the couple decided it might be a good deal.

WALL OF CHOICE flagstones forms background for Mrs. Floyd (Rachel) Judd. She and her husband operate the quarry in the Oakley area. At this spot the mica in the rock gives it sparkle. Overburden has been taken away to reveal the choice rock which has been covered for centuries. Mrs. Judd says the rock supply at this one quarry is more than will be removed in her lifetime. Winter slows bring a halt to operations, carried on only during open months. (Times-News photo)

OFF SEASON WORK is carried on by Mrs. Floyd Judd, shown here with her husband inspecting an ornamental table she is in the process of constructing. Winter closes the roads to the quarry and small handmade articles such as this provide a source of income. The table base is of hardwood and the legs of wrought iron. The flagstone is durable. (Times-News photo)

Decorative Flagstone From Quarry South of Oakley Finds Ready Market

Both Mr. and Mrs. Judd, and the employees as well, point out that work at the quarry isn't the easiest to be found. It also has lively periods, they laugh, which make for swift evacuation.

"This mass migration comes during summer lightning storms. Attracted by the metal found in the rock, the lightning seems to have an affection for the area and voltage, the owners point out. At this time the Judds beat a hasty retreat down to the base camp about half a mile below the quarry operation.

The quarry is located at an altitude of about 9,000 feet. The company yard is at Oakley where repair shop and an office are also maintained.

Even under the most favorable conditions, travel up the mountain road to the quarry is possible only through utilization of four-wheel-drive vehicles.

Rock from the Diamondfield quarry was used extensively at the Ponderosa motel complex at Burley, Harrah's club on the shores of Lake Tahoe and at the new visitor's center of the Sawtooth forest at Redfish lake.

There are eight children — three boys and five girls — in the Judd family, and Mrs. Judd says she is enough to help in the business, do so in one way or another.

"The older girls take bread, wash, iron and cook and take telephone calls while I am at the quarry or away on business," Mrs. Judd says. "The older boys aid in the harder tasks."

"The business of ours is a family venture and we all have a hand in it."

The rock which comes from the quarry is used primarily for construction, decorative work, house sidings, fireplaces, planters and patios. In the winter, Mr. Judd constructs specialty items such as end tables, using the colorful rock as cover. Patio tables also take shape under his skillful hand.

It is easy to tell the family members who are engaged in the outdoor part of the business. They are as tan as they are practically the color of the rock they bring down from the hills.

"One thing about it," Mrs. Judd said, "it gets you out in the open and you are high up where the air is fresh."

Japan Rules Athletes Can Carry Liquor

By TED SHIMIZU
United Press International

TOKYO, Aug. 16 — There was a mixed eyebrow in Tokyo when the Japanese government announced that every athlete and every official entering the country for the Olympic games would be allowed to bring with him:

76 bottles of whiskey,

60 bottles of beer,

60 bottles of wine,

And 60 packages of foreign cigarettes.

It looked like one of the most unusual athletic training programs of all time, until a spokesman for the Japanese finance ministry explained it away. Naturally we don't expect everybody is going to bring that much liquor in with him," the spokesman said.

"We just made the rule, because we've been told training diets differ from country to country."

Americans generally expect their athletes to be on the wagon, at least while they're in serious training. But according to the finance ministry, the Europeans don't see it that way.

The spokesman said that German Olympic athletes had asked permission to bring in German beer to round out their athletes diets. The French wanted wine with their meals, and the Italians said they couldn't be at their best without mineral water.

Japan, struggling with a perennial balance of payments problem, normally allows foreign liquor in the country only after a stiff tariff has been paid. The Olympic officials and athletes will get to bring it in tax free. "We made the decision with the hope that each athlete will exercise good judgment in consuming the bottles," the finance ministry spokesman explained.

"They understand they're not supposed to sell these things, and they will not be allowed to take them out of the Olympic village, for parties at hotels or things like that."

"If there's any left over, I assume most countries will give it to their embassies."

Swiss Air Cadets Feel at Home in Wood River Valley

HAILEY, Aug. 15—Swiss air cadets, visiting in Magic Valley recently, felt completely at home in the Wood River valley, with the Sawtooth mountains reminding them of their native Alps.

Although the terrain is quite similar to their own country, the young cadets were pleased and awed with Yellowstone's national park and the immensity of the portions of Idaho they saw.

A highlight of their visit here was being taken for individual rides in the sail-plane of Capt. Stur, captain of the Northwest Soaring Association, at the Halle airport. They were particularly interested in the flying sport as it is the national pastime of their homeland, where all are accomplished airmen.

Before coming to Hailey the youths spent two days at Sun Valley and had toured the Craters of the Moon on route from Idaho Falls.

Civil Air Patrol Maj. E. C. Woods, Twin Falls, who accompanied the youths here, said the CAP each year sponsors an exchange of cadets with many other countries. Idaho this year sent three top CAP cadets overseas.

The cadets' itinerary called for stop in Twin Falls, Boise (where they visited the governor's office and attended at a Caldwell rodeo).

A visit to President Johnson in Washington, D.C., with cadets from other countries who also have been in the United States, was a concluding item on their trip.

Civil Air Patrol Maj. E. C. Woods, Twin Falls, who accompanied the youths here, said the CAP each year sponsors an exchange of cadets with many other countries. Idaho this year sent three top CAP cadets overseas.

The cadets' itinerary called for stop in Twin Falls, Boise (where they visited the governor's office and attended at a Caldwell rodeo).

A visit to President Johnson in Washington, D.C., with cadets from other countries who also have been in the United States, was a concluding item on their trip.

A highlight of their visit here was being taken for individual rides in the sail-plane of Capt. Stur, captain of the Northwest Soaring Association, at the Halle airport. They were particularly interested in the flying sport as it is the national pastime of their homeland, where all are accomplished airmen.

Before coming to Hailey the youths spent two days at Sun Valley and had toured the Craters of the Moon on route from Idaho Falls.

MAP OF AREA now under study in connection with possible establishment of a national park above Galena summit is outlined in heavy black line. This is the first time a map of the study section has been published. The shaded portion in the middle of the general area is a section closely approximating the present primitive area administered by the forest service. If the study now under way shows administration in the public interest would be better under the national park setup than under the forest program, then this area would form the bulk of such a park. Added to this, however, would be more than 35,000 acres adjoining, which in all probability, would include Redfish, Pettit and Alturas lakes. (Times-News engraving)

Berlin Wall Is Bloody Monument

BERLIN, Aug. 15 (AP)—It began three years ago with a few strands of barbed wire being dragged across the streets of downtown Berlin.

Now the red wall dividing the city is a massive, bloodstained death trap with a depressing air of permanence.

The communist regime began to build the wall after more than three million East Germans had fled to the West. The refugees were pouring over the open frontier at the rate of 2,000 a day.

Then it was just a question of crossing the street or taking a subway ride.

The wall blocked 377 streets, and the subway stopped running between East and West. The escape hatch was closed.

The eight crossing points kept open for foreigners and West Germans are strongly guarded.

Brave East Germans are still risking their lives to escape, but now they come over mostly in ones or two.

At least 52 have been killed and 32 injured in attempts to breach the wall. Another 53 died on the 800-mile frontier between East and West Germany.

Nearly 20,000 East Germans have escaped since the wall was built—an amazing number considering the formidable obstacles.

Whole rows of houses have been demolished to clear a field of fire for the guards. Apartment blocks on the border have been evacuated and windows bricked up.

Western experts estimate that $3 million dollars worth of concrete and barbed wire have been used on the wall and on barbed-wire around West Berlin. The waste of man-hours has been enormous.

West police have counted 233 trenches and dugouts and 105 watchtowers around the 101-mile city limits. In these more than 10,000 East German soldiers keep constant armed watch, with orders to shoot refugees.

West police say the Red Guards have used their weapons 833 times. West police have observed the arrest of 1,700 persons, apparently planning to escape.

There may have been many more violating out of sight inside Communist territory. Security controls around Berlin begin many miles from the border.

Planning to leave East Germany without official permission is a crime. A West Berlin refugee group calculates that prison terms totaling 13,000 years have been handed down by Communist courts for planning or helping escape.

Not all the red guards enjoy their work. Since the wall, 1,200 of them have defected to the West. Many of the young men who escape say they bolted to avoid being conscripted for duty on the wall.

The controlled East German press, including soldiers' magazines, is continually trying to bolster morale and alertness by the border guards. They are told the wall was a justifiable

National Park Director Views Vast Sawtooth Area in Air, Ground Jaunt

After dinner on his arrival at Redfish Lodge, Hartzog was shown aerial color slides of the back country in a show arranged by Robert Tucker and Art Harshbarger, two of the partners in the lodge operation.

It was recommended that this study be undertaken prior to the submision of administration's position to congress on bills proposing the establishment of the park.

It was the plan of Hardling to accompany Hartzog on the inspection, but at the last minute he was forced to cancel out because he had to return to Washington the day prior to Hartzog's arrival. Unlike Gray, his executive assistant, he remained in the congressional committee.

Legislation calling for a park was introduced in the house by Rep. Hardling and in the senate by Senator Frank Church, D. Id. When Hardling introduced the house bill he said "Idahoans would share the Sawtooths with Americans from throughout the United States who would enjoy a scenic beauty that is unsurpassed."

He continued, "In the creation of national park in the Sawtooths we do not face the multitude of problems that are often faced in the birth of a national park."

"The land that would be included in such a park is presently all, or nearly all, federally owned, depending upon the finally determined park boundaries."

"The area is limited in its multiple-use value, other than for scenic use. In addition to the national advertising including designation on all future maps and road atlases, national park status would provide for full development of the area for scenic value, including necessary roads and facilities to enable the people to enjoy the Sawtooths as they now enjoy Yellowstone in the summer, Glacier in Montana and the Olympic peninsula in Washington."

Government positions pay as high as $440.00 a month to start. They provide much greater security than private employment and excellent opportunity for advancement. Many positions require little or no specialized education or experience.
